A Season For The Dead
A Season for the Dead, like The Da Vinci Code, is a thriller that takes an unflattering look at the Catholic Church, but it is better written and more sophisticated.

A Season for the Dead (Nic Costa, #1) by David Hewson
A Season For The Dead introduces young Italian detective, Nic Costa. The setting is present day Rome and the opening scene begins with a death in the library of the Vatican. In this book, there is murder and intrigue, romance and sex, history, art and religion; but best of all there is depth to the characters and I felt as though I knew these people by the time I finished reading.
